WHAT ARE COMBINATIONS?

You will remember to interpret your cards axis by axis and card by card.

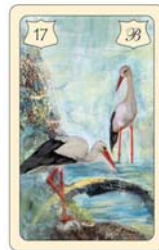

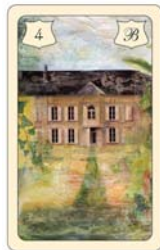

You then analyze the current situation, the past and the future by creating one great "jigsaw puzzle" out of the many different pieces of information you have gotten from the individual cards.

This is where combinations differ a little from your usual technique, as Combinations are constellations, which consist of 2 or more cards and which have to be analyzed together.

Confused already? Let me give you a little example:

This is a Combination you may already know, although you have been unaware that you were already dealing with such a special constellation:

No 4 House (domestic area) + No 17 Stork (change)

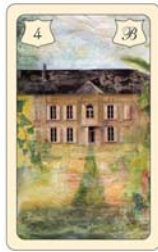

→ This simple Combination means:
Move, relocation or renovation.

The following Combination is a little more complicated but still easy to understand:

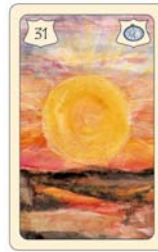

No 4 House + No 17 Stork + No 31 Sun

(relocation/ renovation)

(positive, summer, sunny, South)

Let us now combine: renovation/ relocation with:
positive, summer, sunny, South

-  successful renovation
-  renovation in the summer
-  relocation for the better
-  relocation in the summer
-  relocation into a sunny flat
-  positive relocation

Once you have spotted and analyzed the Combination, it is time to use your intuition again and choose the most appropriate meaning!

Another example – diagonal axis!

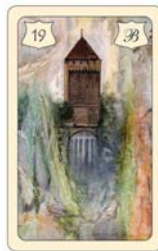

No 24 Heart (love) + No 27 Letter (message)

We will now expand this combination by adding one more card.
In this case a negative card: No 25 Rat.
It should already be

One last example:

No 19 Tower + No 10 Scythe + No 9 Flowers

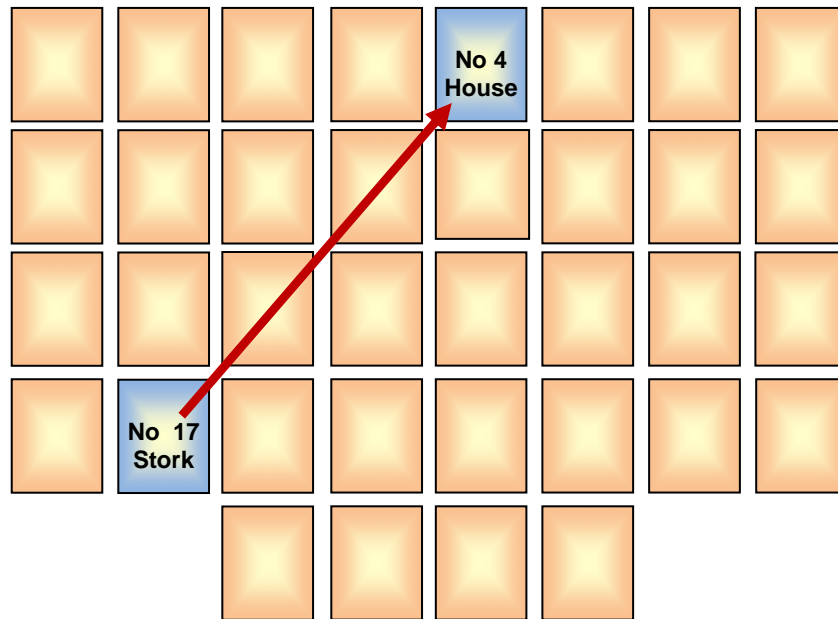

Although the person is going to lose his or her work or finish a job, it will either be for the better, or be

However, even though it is of the utmost importance to keep within the given axes, the Combinations may be interrupted by one or more cards. The following example will show you how to deal with such a case:

The above example shows the following Combination:
 Stork + House → Move, relocation, renovation

Important! Please note:

Please take special care when you work with Combinations dealing with sicknesses and other possible dangers!

Those cards should only be interpreted in their combinations when you are absolutely certain that your statement is 100% correct, and even then they should only be mentioned if you are sure that the person you are talking to can deal with this kind of information.

Please do not make any medical diagnoses, even if you happen to work in the medical trade.

It is not a fortune-teller's job to worry or even depress people and the dangers of a statement, which has not been properly considered, are greater than you may think.

You may, however, ask your client if he or she has recently suffered from health problems and then warn him or her to take special care of a certain organ or limb. Advise them to go and see a doctor, should there really be any possible health problems and tell them to live or eat more healthily and be more careful in the future.

Please remember that cartomancers are not qualified to make specific diagnoses!

Please understand that private problems are also a delicate area of a person's life and should therefore also be approached with great care!

Certain cards, such as the typical „Snake + Heart-Combination“ may seem obvious at first sight, but they are in fact not as unambiguous as they may appear. So before you tell a client that her husband is having an affair, please consider the fact, that he may also simply be very close and feel love for an older woman in his environment, e.g. his mother.

And even if we know something for sure, it may sometimes be better not to spill the beans and ruin a relationship or even a person's whole life.

Please keep in mind that we are counselors and that it is our job to help people.
Not to freak them out.
